

Noted Concert Pianist Elise Sobol performs “Timeless Classics on Aruba” at the Cas di Cultura this Thursday Evening

Elise Sobol, music educator, author, and featured performer with the Melbourne Musicians Chamber Orchestra of Australia will grace the stage of the Cas di Cultura in Oranjestad on Thursday, August 18, beginning at 8:30 p.m. Joining her in concert is soprano Catherine Provence-Hanrath, in an evening devoted to the Arts in Education and to benefit the students of the I.P.A. (Instituto Pedilógico Arubaanse) the island’s teacher training institute in financing their field training in the cultural centers of New York City.

The performance has been arranged by the Fundacion Muchilla Creativo president Rose-Marie Provance, head of the Music Department of the I.P.A., in conjunction with UNOCA, and the program includes the concert and a meet and greet with the artist during a wine and cheese reception afterwards, plus a student art exhibition. Tickets are on sale at the door for 30 Aruban Florins ($17) and it promises to be an exhilarating and enriching experience as Ms. Sobol share her unique talent and love of music and life with the audience.
